A NATIONAL SURVEY

- Approximately 30.8% of India’s 1.16 billion people are under 14 years of age.
- 35% of the people in the age group of 15-45 years in India are illiterate.
- By 2020 India will have one of the youngest populations in the world.
Of 31m children in the 6-14 years age group, 6m do not have access to school.

10 m under the age of 6 do not make it to the right to education.

Among those enrolled, around 53% of the children, 2/3rd of them girls are out of school by grade VIII.

7% of youth in India have access to any kind of post secondary education.
The United Nations Declaration of the Rights of the Child:

There are children raised in sorrow beneath the scorched and barren plains.

There are children raised in sorrow beneath the golden sun.

There are children raised in sorrow beneath the water and the land.

There are children raised in sorrow beneath the land and they all cry out, their voices raised as one.

I need to live
I need to know
I need to be
I need to grow
I want to see what I can give
I need to live. I need to live.
