

ACSA Webinar presenter Alison Rourke

BIOGRAPHY

Alison Rourke has been a school Principal for 4 years. Her first school, Buxton PS, was a small rural school with seven teachers and 175 children. Alison's present school has 400 children, five support classes, a preschool, 14 mainstream classes and is the demonstration school for the University of Wollongong.

Previously she has been an Instructional Leader, a Deputy Principal and a Highly Accomplished Teacher in Campbelltown schools. In 2019 Alison was awarded the Commonwealth Bank Teaching Award- Teaching Fellowship for the work I did transforming Buxton PS. She said, "it has been an honour and a privilege to be a part of such an amazing program surrounded by an exceptional group of school leaders."
