

ACSA Webinar presenter Phillip Poulton

BIOGRAPHY

Phillip is an early-career researcher completing his doctoral studies at the University of Sydney with Associate Professor Nicole Mockler and Dr Matthew Thomas. He has experience as a primary school teacher, government education officer and school curriculum leader. Phillip completed his Master of Philosophy (Education) in 2019, researching teachers' professional agency in a school-based curriculum reform. For this research, he was awarded a most Outstanding Master of Philosophy Thesis Award from the Faculty of Education, Queensland University of Technology. His research interests include national curriculum policy, school-based curriculum development, classroom curriculum-making, teachers' theories of content, and research ethics.